1. The Data Protection Act

The Data Protection Act aims to protect the rights and freedoms of individuals about whom personal information is processed.

The Information Commissioner is an independent authority reporting directly to the UK Parliament who enforces and oversees the Data Protection Act 1998 (DPA).

We are obliged to provide a notification to the Information Commissioner describing the purposes for which personal information is processed. This is available from the Information Commissioner Office, contact details can be found on page 2.

2. Your rights under the Data Protection Act

It is your legal right to know how your personal information is used

When you register an enquiry, or complete an application, you will be consenting to the use of your personal information.

If you would like a full explanation of "How we use your personal information" you can request a copy of our additional leaflet from any branch or by calling 0845 1200 100.

If you have any queries about either of these leaflets, please contact Data Protection at the address on the back of this leaflet.

An adequate level of security for your personal information

We take the privacy and security of your personal information very seriously. We won't disclose it to anyone except with your consent or if the law, public duty or our legitimate interests require us to. Our security is in line with industry best practice and standards.

Challenge automated decisions

If a computer makes a decision affecting you e.g. automated credit scoring, you can discuss this and the decision will be reviewed and changed, if appropriate.

Object to direct marketing

You have a right to choose not to receive direct marketing. We will ask you if we can market to you and how we can do this. We will remind you of this right every three years. You can change your mind at any time by calling 0845 1 200 100 or by visiting your local branch.

If you do not wish to receive unsolicited marketing from other organisations, you can register your details with the preference services run by the Direct Marketing Association. For more information see dma.org.uk.

Have incorrect personal information corrected

If you demonstrate that your personal information is inaccurate, we will correct it.

Compensation if we breach the law and you suffer damage

If you suffer loss or damage because we do not comply with the Data Protection Act, you may be entitled to compensation.

Obtain a copy of the personal information we hold about you

This is a Subject Access Request. We may charge you a fee of £10 to process your request. You can obtain a copy of your personal information by making a request online or completing a Subject Access Request form (YBS039) which you can obtain from any of our branches, or by writing to the address on the back of this leaflet.

Assessment by the Information Commissioner

Anyone can ask the Information Commissioner for an assessment of the processing carried out by any company. Information Commissioner contact details are:

Invoke your rights

If you have any queries relating to the use of your personal information, or this leaflet, please contact Service Quality at the address on the back of this leaflet.

3. Our legal obligations

We must make sure that your personal information is:

- Processed fairly and lawfully and only processed if certain conditions are met.
- Obtained only for one or more specified and lawful purpose(s), and not further processed.
- Adequate, relevant and not excessive in relation to the purpose(s) for which it is processed.
- Accurate and, where necessary, kept up to date.
- Kept for no longer than is necessary for the purpose(s) for which it was collected.
- Processed in accordance with your rights under The Data Protection Act.
- Protected by appropriate technical and organisational measures against unauthorised or unlawful processing or accidental loss, destruction or damage.
- Not transferred to a country or territory outside the European Economic Area unless there is an adequate level of protection, with your consent or where permitted by the Data Protection Act.
